

Item Descriptions/Flavor Text

My Pink Dog Plush
Custom Keyboard
Photo Light String
Excedrin
Labubu
Weighted Blanket

Candle Warmer
3-tier Cart
Sword
Painting
Incense

References:

Rocky's Dog Collar is a common Amulet. Primarily of use for barter or sale to Traders.

 Smells a bit rusty, but looks stylish nonetheless

Properties

 Amulets

 Rarity: Common

 Weight: 0.05 kg (0.1 lb)

 Price: 20 gp

 UID  UUID

Regarding the Slayer is a book given to the player by Volo after he is rescued from the heapside docks, reading it grants all characters a permanent passive buff that gives advantage on saving throws against Frightened inflicted by anyone in the Slayer form.

 This book is redolent with the enticing smell of paper and ink.

Properties

 Books

 Author: Jon Irenicus

 Rarity: Story Item

 Weight: 0.5 kg (1 lb)

 Price: 14 gp

 UID  UUID

Effect

- Grants all characters the  Slayer Knowledge passive when read.
- Grants  Piercing Growl to the the Dark Urge, if they have gained the Slayer form.

Elvish Jewelry

Dirty but still beautiful. On the side is a flowing script thought by some to be the ancient language of the elves. No Elvish bones have ever been found.

Amethyst

A purple variant of quartz.

Prismatic Shard

A very rare and powerful substance with unknown origins.

Void Mayonnaise

A thick, black paste that smells like burnt hair.

The Improvised Bucket Chair

$40

Swatches: 10

When life hands you a bucket, make it a chair! Perfect for spontaneous seating solutions. The Improvised Bucket Chair adds a touch of quirky charm to any space.

Comfort: 3

Heirloom Eligible

NanoCan Touchless Trash Can

$1,200

The next generation of trash disposal, this hands-free bin replete with smart tech and odor filters converts organic waste into fuel, rendering the entire unit self-sufficient.

Functional Off-the-Grid

My Pink Dog Plush: Your childhood toy that's been with you all your life and gone everywhere. The thing you couldn't sleep without as a kid. That stain from a spilled goop of baby food forever etched on the plush, as if it was a birthmark. Now, memorialized in your bedroom, maybe waiting to go to your own children some day. They may be deflated and scrawny compared to the fluff and spark of life it had a decade ago, but that loving, warm feeling still remains. If you haven't in a while, give them a good squeeze.

Custom Keyboard: Click, clack. Thonk, thunk. Tip, tap. A variety of sounds that could come out of a custom built keyboard. The inside covered in blue painter's tape, switches personally lubed, and perfectly picked out keycaps all to fit with the rest of the desk setup. Time and money spent to craft a beautiful instrument for the perfect typing experience. Now it feels like an ASMR video is being played aloud at all times of the day.

Photo Light String: A string of lights that hold fragments of memories together up for display. The warm lighting from the fairy lights adds this sense of fuzzy, magical feeling to the photos, and those memories just start jumping out at you.

Excedrin: Experiencing trouble sleeping, light sensitivity, throbbing head pain, or dehydration? This holy grail of medicine is exactly what you need! It's the speedy recovery and long-awaited comfort from a migraine. Chronic migraine havers carry this in every bag and in every place possible in their homes. Before taking any, you could find this type of person in their room in the complete dark, a warm towel on their neck or head, maybe even trying to sleep off this horrible sensation in their skull. Without this means death.

Labubu: This freaky cute little monster stares into the soul and plants the addiction of blind boxes into the depths of your brain. It starts with the cute and fluffy ones, then the keychains, and soon your entire home is covered in the figurines of the evil corporation that is, PopMart. You can hear the shaking of a blind box from a mile away now. And who knows how many dupes you've opened just to get the one you wanted.

Weighted Blanket: This seemingly normal blanket? It's actually a 20 pound weight of comfort for those considered neuro-spicy. You will often find the owner hiding underneath this blanket escaping a previous nervous breakdown. The needed distraction of pressure relieving a whole different kind of mental pain this person could be feeling. This blanket is very used...the owner swears their fine.

-----

Candle Warmer: Use this as it was intended, to warm your candles rather than using a flame. Or why not try melting some cheese or chocolate for a late night snack at your desk? Come on, give it a try!

3-tier Cart: The perfect storage cart to store your hobbies' essentials. Perfect for mobility too, wouldn't want to go anywhere without this!

Sword: A weapon for some and a unique decoration for others. This pointy edged stick could be one's demise or a room's finishing touch. *Keep out of reach of children*

Painting (Fells Point looking over the water and a boat, townhouses): This serene watercolor painting of the Fells Point area is just what you need for your home decor. Look at the beautiful harbor and dock of boats, lines of townhomes, and the bustling street of people. You'll feel as if you are there yourself.

Incense: Who knew just burning a stick could create such a calming aroma?